W. F. TIMLIN,

Selectmen of Ashland.

To the Voters and Taxpayers of Ashland:

The Town Budget Committee submit the following estimates for the year 1942:

The amount recommended for the support of schools is increased $2,793.50 from last year to a total of $25,220.50.

Aside from this large increase in the school expense, there have been only minor changes in the estimates.

We recommend raising the sum of $5000.00 to be added to the Building Fund, the same to be kept in reserve, in the same manner as the previous sum raised for this purpose is being kept, and under the same conditions.

We commend our Selectmen for their efforts during the past year to keep the amounts spent by the several departments within the appropriations. Their efforts have in the main been successful.

REPORT OF SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS

Schools in War Time

In many ways, the fact of a nation at war affects our public schools. Two of the most important ways are dealt with in this report: (1) Civilian Defense preparations. (2) Effect on regular school work.

Civilian Defense

Our location, some distance from large cities and factories, makes air raids seem unlikely. The results of surprise attacks in other parts of the world, however, make preparedness by all civilians the only sensible course in this war. The practice of air raid drills is being held in school, that it may become a matter of regular routine. Fire squads, composed of older boys, are trained in the handling of incendiary bombs and in extinguishing secondary fires. A First Aid group was organized and received the Red Cross first aid course. In the grade school, the children go at the signal to the first and second floors where they are grouped in suitable rooms near inside walls and as far from windows as possible. There they stand quietly, ready for further directions. This affords good training in self-control as well as alertness to a change of orders in the event of an emergency. Wraps are taken with them, ready in case of a Fire Evacuation drill. If the fire evacuation signal is given, pupils put on their wraps and go outside. There they are grouped according to the streets they live on, and each group is taken home under the guidance of a high school pupil. Bus pupils go to the Town Hall where they stay under the supervision of two teachers.

Effect on Regular School Work

Greater interest is shown in geography and current events. Our pupils are becoming "map conscious" as they read the newspapers and listen to news broadcasts. More attention than ever is given to a study of our American neighbors, including Canada as well as Central and South America. The work of the Red Cross, and need of investing a part of our savings in Defense Stamps, receive their share of attention. Much stress is also put upon the need of conservation of all materials. Rubber erasers for pencils will soon be scarce. All supplies are rapidly advancing in price, making it essential that all be used to best advantage and nothing wasted.

Visual Education

Several times during the year our pupils have had the privilege of using one of the most valuable and modern of educational devices, the sound motion picture projector Films on various topics connected with geography, science, music, home economics, history, etc., have been shown in each of the schools. With proper discussions of the film lesson beforehand, and correlation with regular studies afterward, these visual lessons can be made very valuable.

Changes in Teaching Staff

Three new teachers in the high school and two in the elementary grades are with us this year. Miss Kearney and Miss Luzo resigned at the close of school last June, and their places have been filled by Gladys Page (Keene Teachers College 1941) as teacher of home economics and Louise Hill (Salem Teachers College 1941) in the commercial department. Shortly before the opening of school in September, Headmaster Gunn was called for military service, and John P. McCarthy, for several years head of the Department of Guidance in the high school at Wellesley, Mass., has been engaged as our headmaster. In the elementary grades, Ruth Sanborn in Grade 6 and Bena Thompson in Grade 2, both graduates of Keene Teachers College, and with several years of experience, have replaced Frances Carroll and Norma Wade, who resigned in June. The new course in woodworking, described later in this report, is taught by Almon E. Carter, an experienced cabinet maker, who devotes two hours a day to teaching it.

Building Improvements

Two major changes have been made, one in each of our school buildings, the past summer. Conditions in the girls' toilet rooms in the elementary building made renewal of equipment there imperative, and rearrangement of partitions when the new toilets were installed has made possible provision of much needed storage space in one section of the basement. In the high school building, a partition was moved to enlarge the space used for a school shop, resulting a light and roomy space, adequate for some woodworking machines as well as benches for use with hand tools.

Notes From the High School

The high school has the obligation to prepare youth for group living, and help him fit into future employment situations or into the advanced school work that he may choose. Limited in the scope of vocational training which it may offer, the small high school still may develop attitudes and skills helpful in future jobs as well as to assure success in college or other higher institution. To help in realizing these ends, two important steps are being taken this year. One is the beginning of a guidance program, and the other the addition of a course in woodworking open to freshman boys, which we hope may be continued into the second year next fall. The guidance program calls for a study of the individual problems of high school boys and girls, their achievement in relation to ability, attempts to remove causes of failure, and in increased knowledge of opportunities open to them in the business, professional, and laboring world. The shop course has been proved valuable in many schools in the state, and provides at last for our high school boys something of practical value comparable to the home economics and shorthand and typewriting courses, which are of interest chiefly to the girls.

Several student activities were introduced this year. The Camera Club has met weekly, to study the techniques of good photography and learning how to develop pictures. The block printing class is becoming skilful at carving designs on linoleum, and its members successfully made their own Christmas cards as well as valentines. The group interest in craft work has devoted most of its time to weaving, making belts and rugs, for which the boys in the shop helped to make the frames. Field hockey has been added to the girls' athletic program.

Notes From the Elementary School

Much enthusiasm has been aroused in the elementary grades this year by the introduction of a physical education program under the direction of Mrs. Gladys Frost, who has fifteen-minute classes with the first three grades, and twenty-minute classes with grades four, five and six, one day each week. Lower grade lessons include games, folk dances, and acting out stories; the upper grades work on corrective posture, exercises and games. Such a program adds a valuable contribution to the health and development of the children.

The practice of serving milk and cod liver oil has been continued throughout the grades, as well as the hot lunch program, which has been well patronized. The school is particularly grateful for gifts to help support this program which have been received from Mr. and Mrs. Packard, also from the Senior and Junior Women's Clubs. The Needlework Guild has turned over to the school several articles of warm clothing to be used as needed, a donation which is acknowledged with thanks.

Conclusion

It has been said that teaching may often be done to groups, but that learning is always an individual experience. Your teachers and superintendent are keenly conscious of the fact that each pupil under their care is an individual problem, and that their understanding of these pupils and their difficulties is incomplete and far from perfect. In dealing with these children and their personal problems, we are grateful for any help which parents can give, and we have found parents most generous and cooperative. Let us continue to work together for the good of our children.

Respectfully submitted,

ALMON W. BUSHNELL,

Superintendent.
